8,487 Planes Lost in Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 2,007 airplanes and 1,480 helicopters have been lost in the Vietnam war to enemy fire, accidents and all other causes. Headquarters said 809 combat planes have been downed over North Vietnam since bombing of the North began a little more than three years ago, in February 1965.

This latest total included at least one plane not announced in daily communiques. Such losses are fitted into periodical totals. Usually these lost planes have gone down in Laos or the Tonkin Gulf, out of sight and unknown to the enemy. Headquarters said 238 planes have been lost to enemy fire in South Vietnam. And another 960 planes have been lost to nonhostile action, such as mechanical failure, or they were support cargo planes brought down by enemy fire or downed through accidents. The Command reported that 593 helicopters were destroyed by enemy guns. Of these, nine went down over North Vietnam while on rescue missions for downed pilots and the rest, 584, were downed in South Vietnam. Finally, 887 helicopters have been lost to nonhostile action and all other causes, headquarters said. Many helicopters were destroyed on the ground in enemy shellings or airfields, but the U.S. Command gives no breakdown on these.

Private U.S. Pilots May Be Tested

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — There are 400,000 private pilots in this country and none of them has had to prove his flying skill since the day he got a license, no matter how long ago that was.

Now the government is proposing to require nonprofessional pilots to take periodic refresher courses and proficiency tests, and the proposal is raising their tempers sky-high.

The 23,000 airline pilots and those of the 130,000 commercial pilots who fly for hire already must pass regular proficiency tests. But there is no such rule for student and private pilots. And they, with far less opportunity to keep skills sharp, outnumber the professionals 3 to 1.

In 1966, the last year for which there are statistics, there were 5,712 aircraft accidents, involving 1,151 fatalities. According to the National Transportation Safety Board, "pleasure flying" accounted for 2,469 of the accidents and 712 of the fatalities.

"There is no conclusive proof as to the percentage of general aviation accidents that might have been prevented by periodic instruction, refresher training or proficiency checking," said the Federal Aviation Administration in proposing the new rule.

"However, a review of the accident records shows that many accidents can be ascribed to deterioration of basic airmanship and skills, and to pilots' failure to keep abreast of new developments and operational procedures."

The FAA proposes to require a specific number of hours of instruction and proficiency testing within a fixed period. It invited comments—and got 600 almost immediately.

South Vietnam Drive to North Not Taken Seriously by Many

By BARRY KRAMER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Is it possible there is an effort being made to organize a volunteer army of South Vietnamese guerrillas to liberate North Vietnam from its Communist masters?

Yes, there is, but not many Vietnamese or American officials take it seriously. "I doubt that they could get past the northern outskirts of Saigon," one veteran American official said.

But more restrained minds see the formation of the "March to the North Army," announced this week by a government spokesman, as an attempt to form another anti-Communist front uniting various nationalist elements.

Two such groups were formed after the Communist Tet offensive, aiming at a no-holds-barred struggle against the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

"They're certainly not going to march north tomorrow, if ever," one source said. "They're just using the term 'March to the North' to whip up some nationalist sentiment."

Another source to whom Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky has talked about the matter, said, "Conceptually this thing could grow, but at the moment the military aspect of the organization is only being talked about. It's certainly not out of the planning stage."

Formation of such an army would be difficult, since even the regular South Vietnamese army is not sure it can increase its strength by a planned 65,000 men.

Ky is known to be behind the plan, although he is not openly organizing it. The brains behind the new group is Nguyen Thien Nhon, a cocky, dashing young man who is a special assistant to Ky.

Korean War veterans recall that when the late Korean President Syngman Rhee threatened to invade North Korea, the Americans maintained a round-the-clock ration of gasoline and ammunition for Rhee's army to prevent the threatened invasion.

No one is seriously comparing the two situations, but the American reaction if the South protect himself in these uncertain monetary times?

A— "Probably the best thing to do would be to sit still," said one economist. Some have sought refuge in gold mining stocks, which have increased in price recently. But this is a personal investment judgment. Advocates of a tax hike say the best way to help would be to write Congress urging the tax bill passage.

Q— Would a tax increase stem the gold flow abroad?

A— It would tend to take the steam out of inflationary pressures. It would reduce purchasing power and dampen what economists call an inflationary psychology. People expect prices to go up, so they ask for higher wages, say economists. A tax increase long has been recognized in other countries as a traditional, orthodox fiscal step by countries with balance of payments deficits. These countries, one banker said, "would say the United States is taking the right kind of medicine. It would dampen gold speculation and restore confidence in the dollar."

What President Nguyen Van Thieu thinks about the matter is not known.

Hawkins Case Now Before Judge Steel

By GEORGE F. BARTSCH
Associated Press Writer
MORRILLTON, Ark. (AP) — Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins, who sought for the past four days to account for an alleged shortage of $63,299 in county funds, contended Thursday that the sheriff's office was due an accounting from the county.

Hawkins was the final witness to testify before his attorneys rested their case in the trial of a taxpayers suit in which he is accused of misappropriating "substantial sums" of the county's money between 1963 and 1966.

He told Special Chancellor Bobby Steel of Nashville that in combining county records for evidence needed to defend himself, he had discovered that the county owed the sheriff's office money.

He has refunded bonds in a number of cases in which he also paid fines, fees and court costs inadvertently levied by the same justices of the peace who ordered the refunds, he said, and he indicated that he was conferring with his attorneys about the possibility of seeking a return of the overpayments.

The money would have come out of the operating expenses of the sheriff's office, which is why there appeared to be a shortage, he suggested.

Hawkins said many of his refunds had been in cash, and that the original receipts had been "misplaced." He said he had placed them in a "little tin cash box," but that his deputies had failed to attach them to his receipt book.

There is no record of the JP courts ordering refunds, he explained, because the orders were always delivered orally. He said that in each case, the JPs apparently had forgotten their oral orders when they made out the written record of their judgments.

Hawkins is represented by former Assistant Atty. Gen. Jack L. Lessenberry of Little Rock and former Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon of Morrilton. Lessenberry questioned him on the witness stand.

Lessenberry asked him, "Have you conspired with any justice of the peace..."

"I certainly have not," Hawkins said.

"Have you taken unlawfully or improperly any funds due Conway County or the state of Arkansas?"

"I have not."

struction in the industrial park. The competition to secure new industry demands the best of every city and the combined efforts and unselfish cooperation of its citizens. The future economy of Hope and Hempstead County is in direct ratio to the expansion of existing industries and the obtaining of new industries both of which produce more jobs and payroll income.

The officers and directors of the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation pledge themselves to work with the Chamber of Commerce, the Committee of 100, the City of Hope and Hempstead County in the future industrial growth of this city and county and encourage all citizens to do likewise.

The recent action of the U.S. Treasury Department voiding the tax exemption of ad valorem bonds under Act 9 and Amendment 49 will make financing of industrial facilities more difficult in the future, but it is hoped that the Arkansas Legislature in the coming special session may produce alternate ways to substitute other means of financing to overcome this loss.

The Navy recommendations reach top civilian levels in the Defense Department is an open question.

Robert S. McNamara, who as defense secretary forced the F111s on both the Navy and Air Force, no longer is running the Defense Department. His successor, Clark M. Clifford, has not yet indicated publicly how he stands on the question of pushing ahead with the Navy model.

But Deputy Secretary of Defense Paul H. Nitze, a former Navy secretary and strong supporter of the F111B, still is in office—and Navy admirals fear he may put up a fight to preserve the plane.

It is reported that Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, Chief of Naval Operations, and Vice Adm. Thomas F. Connolly, Navy air chief, told the committee March 4 they would rather not express an opinion until they see the engineering studies.

But, it was said, when Stennis told the admirals the committee wanted their opinions on the TFX now, they expressed a preference for another plane.

The Air Force's F111A, although escalating in cost, has gained general acceptance. Six F111As are due in Thailand within several days before being sent on their first combat missions.

The F111B's biggest problem is weight—reportedly about 80,000 pounds. The Navy wanted something in the 55,000—60,000 pound range.

The revolutionary feature of the F111 in all its variations is a wing that can be retracted close to the fuselage for speeds up to 1,650 miles per hour or extended full length for takeoffs and landings on short fields and carriers.

The Navy studies aim at possible development of lighter fuselages into which would be installed the F111B's engines, its special electronic gear and the Phoenix air-to-air missile, especially designed for the Navy TFX.

The sources said they believed the Armed Services Committee will deny authorization for $350 million being sought by the Johnson administration to build 30 F111Bs toward an eventual Navy fleet of 270.

They said they believe the committee will substitute about $200 or $250 million for research and development on the alternative plane concepts.

Czech Red Leader Loses Ground

Vladimir Janko, deputy defense minister, took his life Thursday just 24 hours after an urgent Cabinet discussion of the flight of Maj. Gen. Jan Sejna to the United States. Reliable sources said Janko, who won the Order of Hero as a World War II troop commander, shot himself through the head in his apartment.

Both Janko and his boss, Defense Minister Bohumir Lomsky, had been indirectly implicated in Sejna's flight after the general was accused of an illegal deal in sales of grass seed to peasants. The Cabinet hearing had been called for Lomsky to defend himself, and the Cabinet expressed dissatisfaction with his defense.

Earlier Thursday another Novotny supporter, Michal Chudik, a leading conservative member of the party hierarchy, resigned as head of the Slovak National Council. Chudik, 53, had apparently abandoned hope that Novotny would be able to ward off liberal pressures and keep the figurehead presidency.

The Slovaks, who make up about one third of Czechoslovakia's 15 million population, have been pressing hard for liberalization and for greater ethnic autonomy.

The new liberal leaders under Alexander Dubcek, who supplanted Novotny as party chief in January, say Sejna was involved in an abortive attempt to mobilize armored troops to keep Novotny in the party leadership.

Sejna is now somewhere in the United States under U.S. government protection. Czechoslovakia's ambassador in Washington asked the State Department Wednesday for his extradition, and the department asked for documentary evidence against him.

Ambassador Karel Duda said Sejna is accused of embezzlement, obtaining money by false pretenses and fraud.

$43.86 million compared with $52.6 million Thursday. Thirty tons of fine gold, excluding coins, changed hands, compared with 45 tons Thursday.

In the face of London's suspension the French Finance Ministry had decreed normal trading on the gold market, the stock market and other exchanges.

President Charles de Gaulle has argued that much of the world's monetary troubles are attributable to U.S. investment in Europe through what he considers inflated dollars. He held an emergency meeting with his finance minister, the governor of the Bank of France and his foreign minister.

Later Finance Minister Michel Debre told reporters: "The French position is well known. There will be no official statement."

Jacques Rueff, one of De Gaulle's chief monetary specialists, commented that the present "ridiculous monetary system is breaking up before our eyes."

French industrial shares rose sharply on the Paris exchange. Banks in West Germany suspended sales nearly two hours, then resumed limited trading.

Other than in Paris and Germany all dealing in gold was suspended across the Continent. European economic observers doubted that the runaway gold rush had ended. Bullion dealers in London said the measures announced in Washington were insufficient and too late to restore public confidence in paper money.

The West German government advocated introduction of a free gold market to hinder speculation in the metal. Presumably it would be in addition to the official gold exchanges with government-set prices.

In London, all markets and the foreign exchange rooms of banks were shut tight, and there were widespread reports that the London Stock Exchange would be kept closed Monday in a further attempt to cool the speculative fever.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There

was some smart thinking in the creation of the character Robert Ironside, a crusty, short-tempered cop with a heart of pure golden putty. And it seems now to have been a stroke of almost genius that put him into a wheelchair.

The NBC series "Ironside" not only has this character around to solve a crime a week, but uses it to give the program flexibility.

Thursday night, for instance, the story was designed to melt the heart of every sentimental viewer—with Ironside taking on the protection, care and feeding of a small and very cute foundling.

The story was built around the baby—its mother trying to escape from an ex-husband, a mental case, and the last minute capture of the madman. But that was only incidental to the scenes of business-like policemen and women fussing over the child. It was "Little Miss Marker" brought up to date, but the idea has lost none of its warmth.

The series, with Raymond went to Little Rock today (Friday) to meet their daughter, Mrs. Richard Woodson of San Francisco, who is arriving by plane for a week's visit.

Hope High students who are attending the Junior Miss Pageant in Mobile, Ala., are Crit Stuart, III, Debbie Watson, Jeanne Pruden, and Twila Hunt. They arrived in Mobile today (Friday) and will return Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herald Porterfield and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ray attended the wedding of Jimmy Porterfield and Miss Laverne Hensley in Austin, Tex., Tuesday, March 12 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ray.

Burr as Ironside particularly contributing to the variety and depth of the episodes, has stood up very well all season. It seems to deserve its popularity and almost automatic renewal for a second season.

NBC has found an insurance sponsor so next season it plans to hop aboard the original drama bandwagon that this season has proved so successful and prestigious for CBS.

NBC has announced plans for five such dramatic specials. Plans already are being firming up for one 90-minute show to be shot in England with Sir Laurence Olivier as host and narrator, and starring Michael Caine, Sean Connery and Paul Scofield.

The series will be called "On Stage," and the first will be broadcast in September or October.

NBC's experiment with original drama this season, a play called "Flesh and Blood," cost a fortune to acquire and produce, but was panned by the critics and pulled very low ratings.

ABC has come up with a series idea that is a cross between a series and a serial. Best-selling novelist Harold Robbins has been signed to develop "The Survivors."

The idea is to have recurring characters and, while each episode would be complete, it would follow some sort of chronological sequence like soap opera. It may be ready for a mid-season replacement next season.

NBC will broadcast a second adaptation of a John Steinbeck book Sunday. The first was "America and Americans," and now comes "Travels with Charley." The latter is an account of his reactions during a 10,000-mile trip with his poodle that took him from New York to California. Henry Fonda once again will be the voice for Steinbeck's words in the narration.

Alvin Roth of New York is one of the world's greatest players. He is also one of the inventors of the Roth-Stone system. Bridge players can get along without the Roth-Stone system, but they can't get along without some of the Roth innovations. Two of these—the unusual no-trump and the negative double—are found in almost every expert kit today.

One of his newest ideas is the unusual cue bid. Today's hand shows the Roth unusual cue bid in action. North wants to be in game and offhand it appears that a no-trump game will be the best spot. In fact North has a typical two no-trump call over West's spade overcall. If he makes that bid, South will raise to three no-trump. East will open a spade. South's queen will bite the dust. North will take a diamond finesse and West will collect six tricks. North and South will complain about bad luck and someone will deal the next hand.

The bidding in the box shows how Alvin would get the no-trump contract into the South hand. North's two spade call is a Roth cue bid and asks partner to bid no-trump with a partial spade stopper. South complies. North raises to three no-trump and nothing can bother South. A spade lead will hold declarer to 10 tricks. Against the club lead he can and probably will make 11, but the important thing is that three no-trump is safe as Fort Knox.

We don't recommend this Roth cue bid for any but well-developed partnerships. It doesn't come up often, and if it is going to confuse you when it does, you had better leave it alone. How do you handle a regular slam try cue bid when you are playing this convention? This is easy indeed. The cue bidder repeats the cue bid to show that it is a real one.

HELEN HELP US!

SEE-THROUGH PRAISE WORSE THAN NONE

Dear Helen: I have a friend who thinks she is being tactful, but I read her like a first-grade primer. She's kind to a fault.

Whenever I buy a dress or anything she doesn't think is attractive, she raves on and on about how lovely it is, probably on the theory that I'm stuck with it, so I shouldn't know the awful truth. When she approves of what I wear, she just says, "You look real sharp," and that's the end of it. So I know I'm "groovin'."

I value her opinions as she has better taste in clothes than I have—probably another reason she fears hurting my feelings.

Should I risk hurting HER feelings and ask her to be more honest, or just keep on reading her compliments in reverse? — VICTIM OF KINDNESS

Dear V of K: Why not take your tactful friend with you when you shop? Tell her you need advice, not compliments, as you rely on her good taste.

I think she'll get your message—that it's better to damn with faint praise than to faint with dumb praise, which is cowardly-kindness. — H

Dear Helen: My husband had a nine-months fling last year. The woman married someone else, and he says he has learned his lesson.

What depresses me now is that he wants to take an apartment near his business which is 50 minutes from home, to save driving time. He would just come home on week-ends. He points out the odds are against him if you fight crowded traffic almost two hours a day, you can expect a bad smash-up sooner or later.

He swears he loves only me and he'd die if I divorced him. But lately I've found lipstick stained cigarettes in his car ashtray, and make-up smudges on his shirts, after he has kept a late "business" date. Yesterday I opened a thermos he had in his glove compartment. It tasted of gin, and there was some lipstick on the rim of the cup.

On the other hand, he gives the children and me everything we want, except, I'm afraid, faithfulness. Should I continue being the blind like suburb wife, and hope he eventually outgrows this middle-age revolt? — LONELY

Dear Lonely: A wife puts down

"middle-age revolt" with firm action, not blindness. Tell him week-end habits are for weak-headed women, and you'll be a full-time wife—or none at all! — H

Dear Helen: "Troubled" wrote she was suspicious that her husband made her sister pregnant. You advised her to ask him, as it's better to know the truth than suffer in doubt.

Now, really, Helen, a big girl like you should know better.

What married man would tell the truth about something like this, especially if he's got a good thing going for him at home—a nice wife, good worker, excellent housekeeper, etc. In other words, a jerk!

I know. I want to believe my husband's innocent explanations. But he's lied so much I know the truth isn't in him. Even when I catch him in the act he tries to weasel out of it.

Why don't you just tell these dumb dames that all men are chronic liars and the only way they'll find out the truth is to trail them down. — F.W.

Dear F: You're judging all men by one. An advisor doesn't do that—unless she's a man hater, and if she is she shouldn't be an advisor. — H

Bonnies, Houston Risk Records

Houston and St. Bonaventure, the only unbeaten major college basketball teams in the country, risk their winning streaks as the NCAA national championship tournament resumes tonight. Both face stern tasks.

The top-ranked Houston Cougars, 25-0, go against ninth-ranked Louisville, 20-6, in the Midwest regionals at Wichita, Kan. St. Bonaventure, 23-0 and third-ranked nationally, faces the No. 4 North Carolina Tar Heels, 25-3, in the East Regionals at Raleigh, N.C.

Individual duels give these games added lustre and make them stand out over the other six second-round contests—Columbia-Davidson, Ohio State-East Tennessee, Kentucky-Oakland, UCLA-New Mexico State, Texas Christian-Kansas State and New Mexico-Santa Clara.

Elvin Hayes, Houston's Big E, is pitted against Louisville's Westley Unseld in a matchup of All-Americans. A no-hitter American, Larry Miller of North Carolina, faces Bob Lanier of St. Bonaventure, who made the All-American second team as a sophomore.

Duke, 10th ranked nationally and the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten not in the NCAA tourney, scored an impressive 97-81 victory over Oklahoma City Thursday night in the opening of the National Invitation Tournament. In the other first-round NIT game at New York's Madison Square Garden, St. Peter's beat Marshall 102-93 in overtime.

Elmer Webster scored 51 points, including seven in the second overtime, to pace St. Peter's, Mike Lewis led Duke with 22 points.

Prime interest in the NCAA West regional at Albuquerque, N.M., is focused on Lew Alcindor, UCLA's two-time All-American. He is expected to lead the Bruins in a bid to retain their national title.

Kentucky's showing against Marquette is the headline in the Midwest regional at Lexington, Ky. Adolph Rupp, Kentucky's coach, who holds the all-time career record of 781 victories, is after an unprecedented fifth national title.

This is the complete schedule for tonight:

At Raleigh, N.C.—Columbia, 22-4, vs. Davidson, 23-4, and St. Bonaventure, 23-0, vs. North Carolina, 25-3.

At Lexington, Ky.—Ohio State, 18-7, vs. East Tennessee, 19-8, and Kentucky, 21-4, vs. Marquette, 22-5.

At Kansas City, Mo.—NIT semifinals—Central, Ohio, State vs. Westminster, Pa., and Fairmont, W. Va., vs. Oshkosh, Wis., State.

Kentucky Wesleyan defeated Ashland, Ohio, 45-32 and Indiana State beat Trinity, Tex., 77-67 in the semis of the NCAA College Division tourney Thursday night.

In the NIT quarter-finals, Central State whipped Central Washington 66-47, Westminster vanquished Eastern Michigan 92-84, Fairmont overcame Dickinson, N.D., 86-81 and Oshkosh edged Drury, 57-55.

Texarkana Golfer Tied for Lead

By RON SPEER

Associated Press Sports Writer
ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Challenger in the Citrus Open Golf Tournament may scoff, but Jack Nicklaus—the king of the fairway belt—is having trouble with his driver.

"I'm not hooking or slicing. I'm just striking the ball off the wrong way," said Nicklaus. "I got a new driver before last week's Doral Open, and I haven't found out how to direct it yet."

Nicklaus still managed to take a share of the lead into today's second round after shooting a 67 to tie Miller Barber in Thursday's opener.

Nicklaus said he wasn't complaining, however, "because it is silly to say how bad I drove it and how many putts I missed and still come in with a 67."

The Ohio strongman salvaged a five-under-par round with some lucky bounces and great iron play, and hit 17 greens in regulation strokes.

Barber tied Nicklaus' score and 41 other players broke par as the flashy field started scrambling for the $23,000 first prize payoff.

The fast finish by Nicklaus and Barber just before dusk broke open one of the biggest logjams of the year. Five players were deadlocked for the lead at 68 before they were bumped out.

Southpaw Bob Charles of New Zealand and comeback-bidding Bruce Devlin of Australia used sharp putting to cut four strokes off par along with Little Deane Beman, surging Tom Weiskopf and surprising Don Massengale.

Four more players—Bert Yancey, John Lotz, Bob Murphy and Lee Trevino—were tied at 69, with Ken Venturi, Gay Brewer and Gardner Dickinson among the 74 players shooting 70s.

Glenn Beckert, Billy Williams and Lou Johnson each drove in a run in a Chicago Cub sixth-inning rally and the Cubs beat California 6-4.

Chico Salmon's single in the last of the ninth capped a struggle by Cleveland, driving in the winning run in a 9-8 triumph over San Francisco.

Jack Aker's low throw in the eighth inning led Aaron Pointer in with a run and Houston beat Oakland 1-0. Willie Davis drove in runs with a double and a single and Los Angeles beat Detroit 5-0.

Tank Aaron's two-run double was one of 22 hits by Atlanta and the New York Yankees as the Braves won 7-3. St. Louis beat Minnesota 7-4, Lou Brock tripling in two runs.

Philadelphia won its third straight game, 2-0 over the Mets, behind the shutout pitching of Larry Jackson, Gary Wagner and Bill Wilson.

Baltimore got five home runs and crushed Washington 11-2. Pitcher Jim Palmer had two shots and Brooks Robinson, Frank Robinson and Elrod Hendricks each had one.

St. Peter Has a New Cage Star

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The St. Peter's Peacocks, a movie-making flop in last year's National Invitation Basketball Tournament, have come up with a 1968 hit made certain by a new star, Elmer Webster.

Call it an Oscar, or an Emmy or a most valuable player performance, they all fit the slender 6-foot-5 forward whose 51 points almost single-handedly eliminated Marshall 102-93 in double overtime Thursday night.

In contrast, 10th-ranked Duke's 97-81 breeze over Oklahoma City in the nightcap of the opening first-round doubleheader at the new Madison Square Garden bordered on boredom for a drained crowd of 17,602.

The racehorse, rough and tumble opener between two of the nation's high-scoring, but overlooked teams stole the show, living up to advance notices.

More important to the Peacocks, who advanced to Monday's quarter-finals against Duke, it served to wipe out the stigma of last year's humiliating 103-58 loss to Southern Illinois in the first round.

For a while, it looked like another 1967 role for St. Peter's, which has never passed the first round in three other NIT appearances. The Jersey City, N.J., team went from a 27-22 lead to a 47-31 deficit as the taller Thundering Herd took control of the boards and the scoring.

It was 51-38 at the half and 57-42 before Pete O'Dea and Webster, a Jersey City native, led the Peacocks on a string of 16 straight points. Four baskets by the 6-5 Webster and one by O'Dea, who finished with 25 points, in the last 3½ minutes forced Marshall to come from behind to tie the 83-81 on George Stone's layup with 43 seconds left in regulation play.

The Herd missed two jumpers in the final seconds that would have won and then Webster, a one-man show with two regulars fouled out, scored all six, St. Peter's points in the first overtime.

Still, Marshall had another chance to win, but missed another last second jump. It was the Herd's last chance as Webster pumped in three baskets at the start of the second extra period for a 95-91 lead.

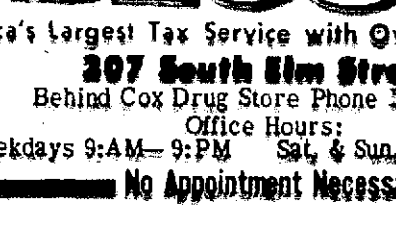

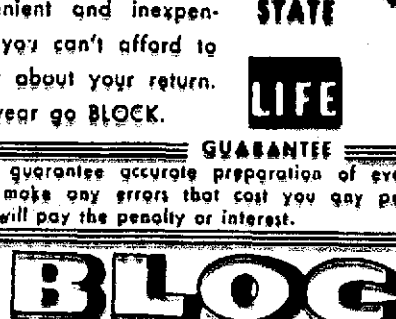

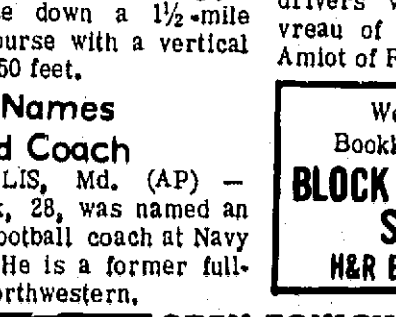

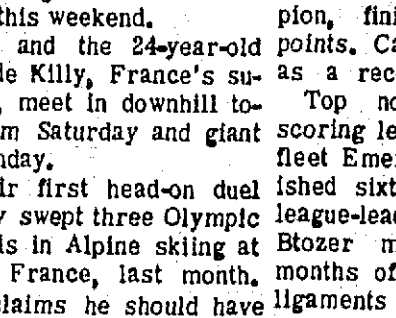

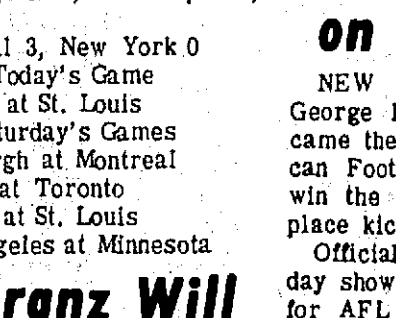

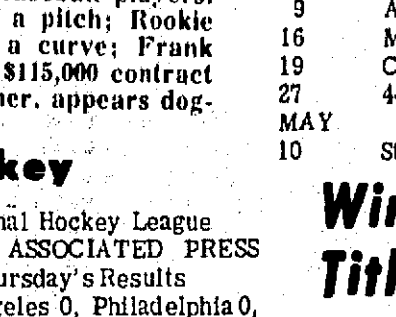

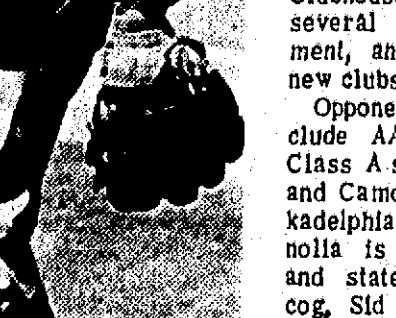

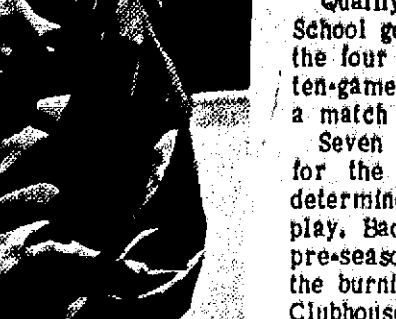

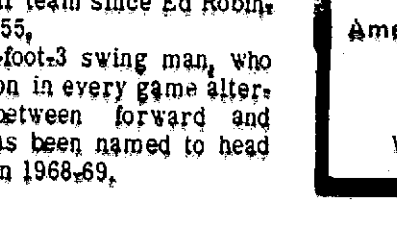

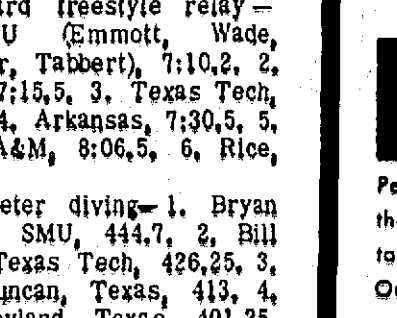

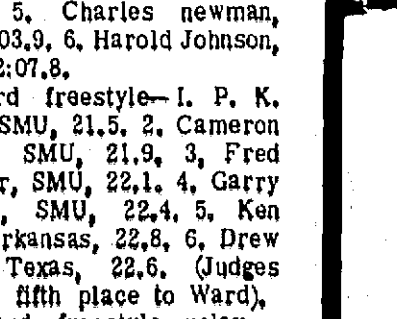

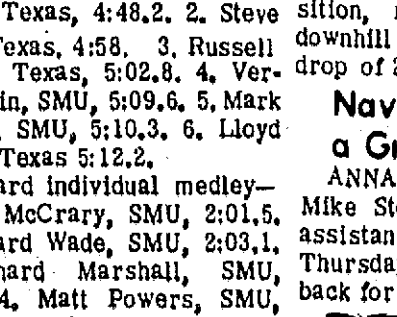

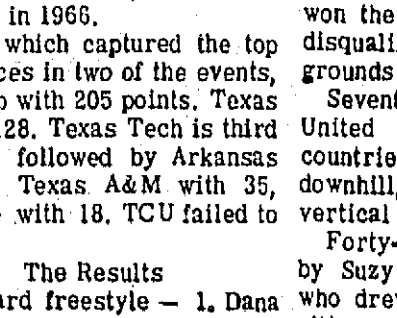

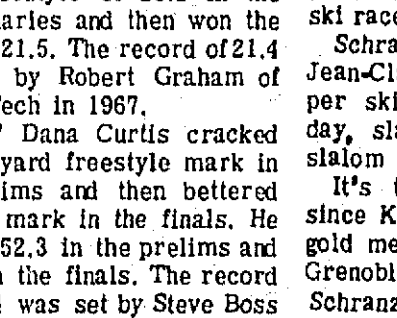

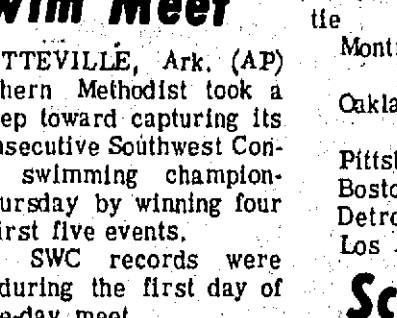

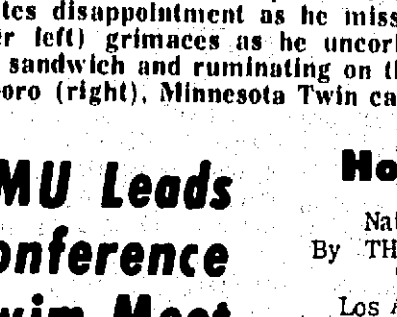

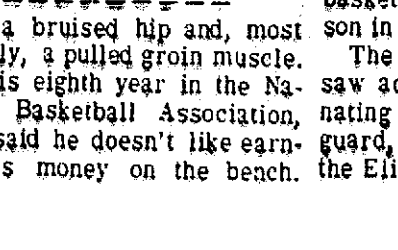

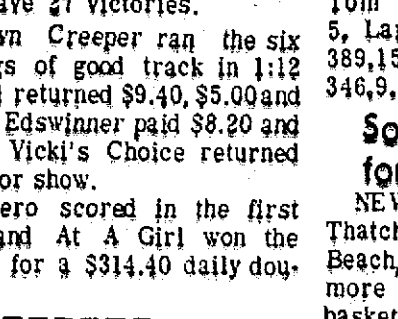

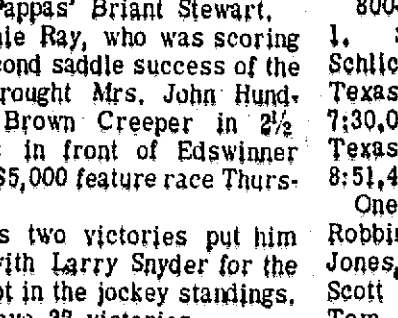

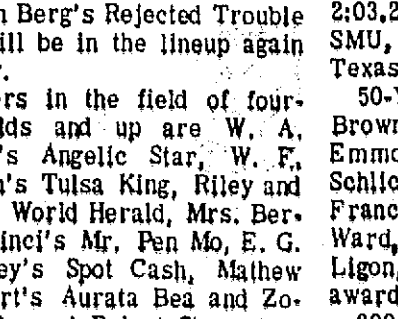

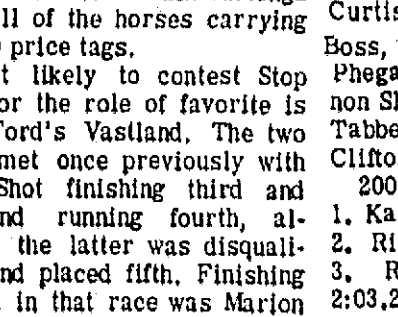

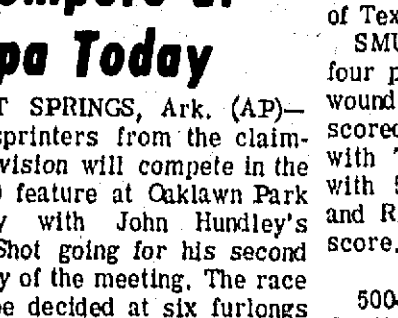

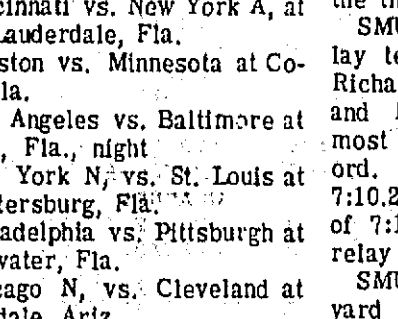

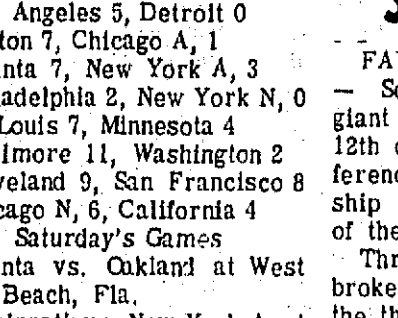

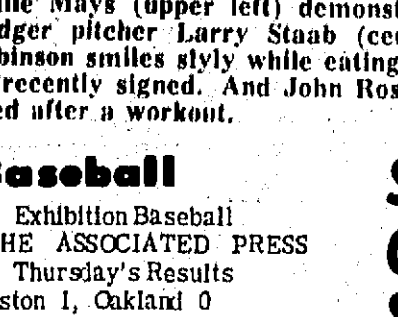

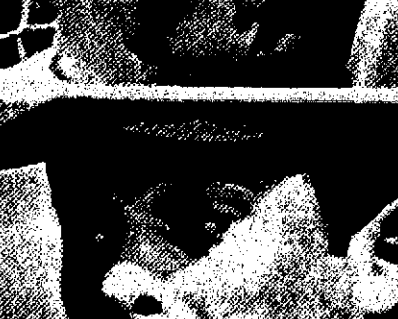

Duke, 22-5, one of the tourney favorites, led by third-team All-American Mike Lewis, squashed Oklahoma City in the opening minutes.

Jerry West May Quit Baseball

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jerry West, All-Pro guard of the Los Angeles Lakers said Thursday his injuries continue to keep him on the bench, he may quit playing basketball altogether.

West has missed 28 games this year with an assortment of injuries including a broken nose, a bruised hip and, most recently, a pulled groin muscle.

In his eighth year in the National Basketball Association, West said he doesn't like earning his money on the bench.

Hope High Golfers Play El Dorado

By RALPH ROUNTON

Star Sports Writer
Qualifying for the Hope High School golf team ends today, as the four winners strike into the ten-game schedule Monday with a match against AAA El Dorado.

Seven golfers are competing for the four spots, which are determined in 36 holes of medal play. Bad weather has hampered pre-season practicing, along with the burning of the Hope Country Clubhouse. The fire consumed several of the golfers' equipment, and the transition to all-new clubs has been tough.

Opponents for the HHS'ers include AAA champ El Dorado, Class A state defender Fordyce, and Camden, Magnolia, and Arkadelphia of Region 4-AA. Magnolia is the district champion, and state runner-up, and their cog, Sld Moore, was the 4-AA medalist last year.

Here is the golf schedule for 1968, including the post-season meets.

Wins Scoring Title Solely on Kicking

NEW YORK (AP) — Aging George Blanda last season became the first player in American Football League history to win the scoring title solely on place kicking.

Official statistics released today show Blanda with 116 points, for AFL champion Oakland. He kicked 20 of 30 field goals attempted and added a league-leading 56 extra points. Blanda missed one conversion kick during the season.

Rookie Jan Stenerud of Kansas City finished second with 108 points. He had a league-leading 21 field goals in 36 tries.

Another kicker, Gino Cappelletti of Boston, the 1966 champion, finished third with 95 points. Cappelletti also serves as a receiver.

Top non-kicker among the scoring leaders was New York's fleet Emerson Boozer, who finished sixth with 78 points on a league-leading 13 touchdowns. Boozer missed the last two months of the season with torn ligaments in his left knee.

MONTREAL (AP) — Bob Gagnon of Montreal, 26-year-old president of an auto parts manufacturing company, said Thursday he will field a Shelby Mustang in the 12-hour car race at Sebring, Fla., March 23. Its drivers will be Francois Faveau of Montreal and Marius Amiot of Rimouski, Que.

Not Even a Big Bear Could Overshadow This Young Actress

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Beth Brickell, who once yearned to be either a professional football player or a U.S. ambassador, anything she tries. "My biggest disappointment as a child was that I couldn't be a football player," she recalled. "But I just didn't have the build."
She grew up in Camden, Ark., studied political science at the University of Arkansas, hesitated whether to become an actress or enter the U.S. foreign service and work her way up to an ambassadorial post. This little girl thinks big all the time.
After a summer of study in Scotland, she toured 17 countries, including the Soviet Union, finally made up her mind her future lay in acting.
"At the time I was in Rome and down to my last $16," she recalled. "To earn my fare back home I took a job there teaching typing and shorthand."
"Instead of dating all those handsome Italian men, I had to stay at home at night studying my shorthand book, so I could keep one lesson ahead of my students."
Back in New York, Beth spent another three years working as a secretary while she studied at the Actors Studio and did small bits in television commercials and off-Broadway shows. Then she went to Hollywood and landed her part in "Gentle Ben."
Although she was glad to land the television role, in which she plays the wife of a Florida Everglades game warden, Dennis Weaver, Beth was fearful she might be overshadowed by another star in the series—"Gentle Ben" himself, a bear.
Many people, she reasoned, might be more interested in watching a seven-foot bear than a 5-foot-3-inch blonde because bears that tall are a lot rarer.
But her fears of being upstaged have turned out to be unfounded.
"Actually we use three bears," she said. "My favorite is Bruno, who weighs 640 pounds and is very tame. I'm very fond of him. He likes to have you pat his head and scratch his ears, just as if he were a big pet dog."
With another season assured for the series, Beth is doing so well financially that she can now afford a better looking fur coat than any that the three

Bob Thomas at the Movies

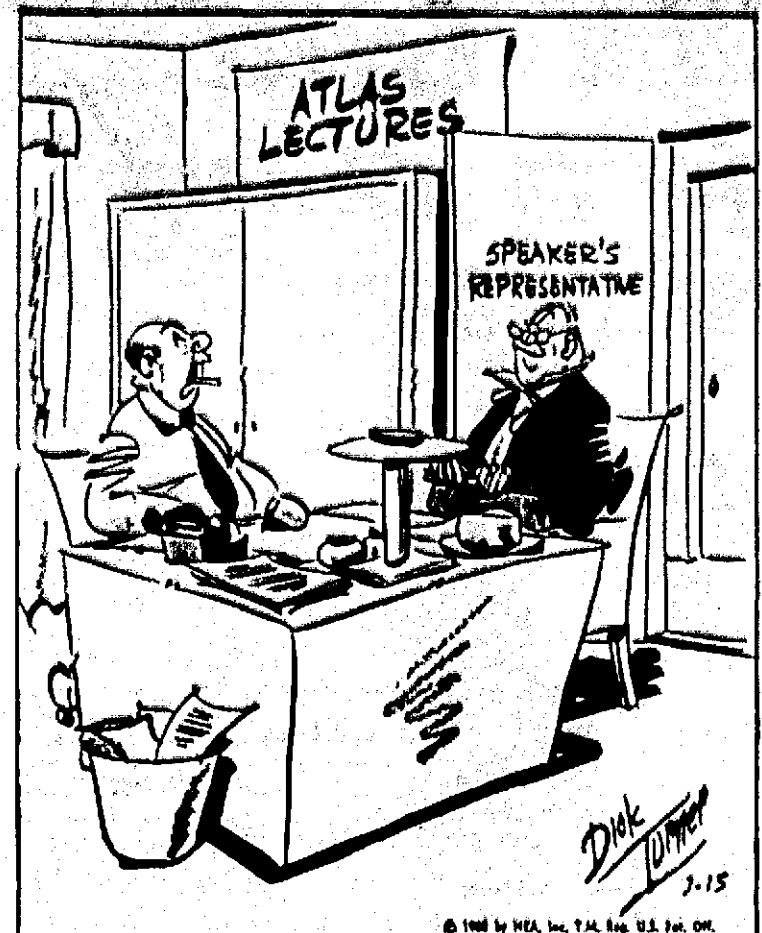

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The best-selling poet in America is not Marianne Moore or Robert Lowell or Robert Frost. He is a taffy-haired jack-of-all-musical-trades named Rod McKuen.
"In fact," says McKuen with a nervous laugh, "they say I'm the best-selling poet—ever."
This is undoubtedly news to most of the literary critics and English teachers of the land, but it is a well-known fact to booksellers. His first book of poems, "Stanyan Street and Other Sorrows," has sold 250,000 copies, and the second, "Listen to the Warm" 200,000. Each is selling at the rate of 5,000 a week.
McKuen's own reaction to such figures is a mixture of amazement and delight. He remarks: "Sometimes I find it hard to believe. You take a poet like T.S. Elliot. I've been told that his last book of poems sold a total of 3,500 copies. T. S. Elliot!"
Obviously Rod McKuen is not T. S. Elliot. Not quite. His poems are mostly in the freest of verse, although some have rhyme and a dogged kind of metre. A sample titled "Apartment 4E."
The girl upstairs
Is entertaining again,
I could set my clock
By the footfall on the stairs.
I see her sometimes,
Coming and going on the stairs
Or going to the market.
Sometimes I hear her late at night
Playing sad music
Or walking overhead.
She smiles in the daytime,
She smiles in the daytime,
But not at me.
The poems are mostly along

"I Shall Keep This Lent"

"LENT" means springtime. It is an old Latin word which means a forty day fasting period next before Easter. It begins with Ash Wednesday and continues till Easter; exclusive of Sundays. It is a time for the conditioning of our soil . . . a time for our Souls to become penitent. It simply means that it is spading up time, the season for planting seeds and for setting blooming trees.

In the realm of the spirit it is a call to get ready for the season of beauty and goodness.

Who amongst us is satisfied with what he is or what he has been? Then let us qualify for the Lenten Season. Let us clear away the rubbish of last year's crop, cut under the old stalks. May we learn from our Lord to give ourselves to good conditioning during Lent. The miracle of Lent is genuine repentance which leads to Newness of Life. A Saintly Keeper of Lent said it well when he spoke the words, "I shall keep this Lent, and hope to refresh my Soul." Amen

DR. LELAND CLEGG

Dr. Leland Clegg of Magnolia has been chosen to lead the congregation of the first Methodist Church, Hope, in a series of evangelistic services which will begin on Sunday, March 17 and continue through Thursday, March 21.

A native of Mississippi, Mr. Clegg is a graduate of Centenary College, Shreveport, La. While in Arkansas, he was pastor of First Methodist Church, Magnolia and Pulaski Methodist Church, Little Rock. He also served as District Superintendent of both the Pine Bluff and Camden Districts of the Methodist Church.

In 1943 he was transferred to First Methodist Church, Muskogee, Oklahoma. Later he was appointed pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, El Paso, Texas - the largest Protestant church between Dallas and Los Angeles.

Mr. Clegg returned to Oklahoma in 1950 and twice served as Superintendent of the Oklahoma City District. Under his leadership there, twenty new churches were established, and the membership of the district increased from 31,000 to 42,000.

Since retiring and moving to Magnolia in 1964, Dr. Clegg has been much in demand as a revival speaker in many churches throughout Arkansas.

The time for services on Sunday will be 10:50 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. Then, beginning on Monday and continuing through Thursday, services will be held at 7:15-7:45 a.m. and 7:30-8:30 p.m. Special choirs of men, women and youth will lead the congregation in singing.

Members of the local congregation extend a cordial invitation to others to worship with them in this series of services.

Can't File Due to Boy Scouts

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller was willing Wednesday to complete the filing routine for re-election for newsmen but was preempted.

Rockefeller paid his filing fee and filed his Republican party papers for re-election last Saturday. He told newsmen Wednesday he would file his corrupt practice pledge if Secretary of State Kelly Bryant would come to his office to receive it.

An aide was dispatched to Bryant's office and returned later to say Bryant couldn't make it.

"He's got some Boy Scouts coming in to meet him," the aide said.

Foreigners Call Tune to Which Our Government Dances

Yesterday the Federal Reserve Board increased the prime rate of interest from 4.5 to 5 per cent — the highest since the eve of the 1929 stock market crash.

This is merely the latest in a series of ominous developments against the intrinsic worth of the United States dollar.

The Johnson administration has been pressing for a 10 per cent increase on the income tax, to which Congress objects, and has requested a tax on travel outside the Western Hemisphere, which the Congress may go along with.

Another emergency move, criticized in this column Wednesday, was an order by the Internal Revenue Service revoking the tax-exemption of industrial development bonds — an order which this writer interpreted to be an usurpation of the powers of Congress. On this we were in error. We attempted to get a tax attorney's opinion before writing Wednesday's piece but were unable to reach him before the press deadline. The fact is, the IRS was delegated authority by the Congress to make or revoke tax exemptions at will.

Nevertheless, the IRS action against industrial development bonds — Little River county was permitted to float tax-free bonds to help the Nekooza-Edwards Paper Co. plant now building near Ashdown, but Hempstead county would be prohibited from doing the same thing should U.S. Plywood-Champion Papers construct a mill at McNab — is the desperate move of profligate politicians about to run out of money.

You know I must be right in this appraisal, for the Arkansas Gazette this morning took an editorial stand exactly opposite — and history gives the Gazette's judgment a most unkind record.

Our recommendation of Wednesday that you write Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways & Means Committee, protesting revocation of the tax-exemption of industrial development bonds still stands. But instead of asking for action against the IRS you should demand that Congress revoke the too-extreme authority that has been delegated to IRS. This is a case where Congress has turned over a vital tax matter to the President and his appointees although the Constitution puts the responsibility upon the Congress.

All of this makes a disturbing picture for the private American citizen — but not a confusing one. In fact the picture is crystal clear.

Our Government has gone on with a heavy loss operation ever since World War II ended, is now fighting a war in Vietnam and at the same time attempting fantastic social welfare programs at home — and foreigners who deal with us suspect we have cannibalized the dollar to the point where it isn't worth what we claim it is.

The Johnson administration appears to have but one remedy for this problem — to get its hands on more tax funds. But the people and the Congress resist. They resist for the obvious reason that a free-spending administration will only use a tax increase as collateral for a still larger debt.

We're not going anywhere on this road but to disaster. There's a war to fight. That comes first. Domestic expenditures should be cut to the bone to accommodate the war.

That's the answer foreigners are waiting to hear — otherwise Americans face the humiliation of seeing their dollar devalued by economic force . . . a grim reminder to irresponsible citizens that no nation can live alone.

Occupational Phaseout

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Airman J.C. Attilio Mandara, 24, is a victim of an occupational specialty phaseout at McChord Air Force Base. On July 1 he will have to give up the throttle of his 80-ton twin engine locomotive, which is being turned over to a civilian.

But Airman Mandara, who came to the United States eight years ago from Positano, Italy, won't be grounded. He will be assigned to driving a truck.

Big Sweep on to Drive Out Enemy

By ROBERT D. OHMAN
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — At least 50,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops are sweeping between Saigon and the Cambodian border in the biggest operation of the Vietnam war, the U.S. Command announced today.

Elements of six divisions and two special task forces moved out Monday in an ambitious maneuver designed to regain the initiative seized by the Viet Cong with their countrywide assault on Jan. 30.

The allied force has killed 215 enemy soldiers, seized 22 suspects and uncovered three huge arms caches, spokesmen said. U.S. losses were reported as 11 killed and 94 wounded, while the Vietnamese Command said its troops had suffered light casualties.

The vast operation—named Quyet Thang, or Resolved to Win — is anchored in Saigon and extends in a semicircle through five provinces north, west and south of the capital.

Fifty allied battalions have been committed plus support troops and national police units. It is the first significant operation uncorked by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the commander of U.S. forces in South Vietnam, since Viet Cong forces invaded Saigon Jan. 31 and turned the city into a battlefield. While the first goal of the operation is to destroy enemy units that continued harassing attacks around Saigon, a second aim is to restore a sense of security and confidence among the shaken civilian population.

For the first time in the war, sections of Saigon were included in the battle plan of an allied offensive, search-and-destroy operation. National police and units of the 5th Vietnamese Ranger Group were assigned objectives in western Saigon and Cholon, the Chinese quarter of the capital.

The force for the operation includes units of the U.S. 1st, 9th and 25th Infantry divisions, the South Vietnamese 5th and 25th Infantry divisions, task forces of Vietnamese paratroopers and marines, the Vietnamese Ranger group, and national police units.

Generally, the various units kicked off the coordinated action from areas to which they have been assigned for the past year.

A U.S. spokesman said soldiers killed 28 enemy soldiers in two engagements Thursday near Ben Cat, 25 miles north of Saigon.

What Happens to the Worker's Pay Check During Gold Crisis?

NEW YORK (AP) — What happens to your pay check if the price of gold is increased? Will a car cost you more money?

These are some of the questions people ask when the talk and the headlines turn to the international gold situation.

Economists interviewed by The Associated Press provided these answers to some of the most common questions:

Q—How would a man in the street be affected by an increase in the price of gold from the present rate of $35 an ounce?

A—An increase would mean that the United States had devalued the dollar. At home, pay checks, bank accounts, the costs of domestic products, and real estate would show no change.

The dollar would buy less gold but it would continue to purchase the same amount of goods — housing, cars — as it did prior to devaluation. However, imported goods might cost more.

Q—Would anyone benefit immediately from a gold price increase?

A—Hoarders and speculators in foreign countries who reap the immediate profits if they had bought gold for $35 an ounce and sold it, at say, $70. Some economists say doubling the price would end speculative

May Refuse Money for Naval Plane

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon sources predict the Senate Armed Services Committee will refuse to authorize money to produce trouble-plagued F111B warplanes for the Navy.

Instead, the sources said, they anticipate the powerful committee will substitute funds to develop an alternative to the Navy's F111B, currently overweight and expensive.

Such a move would not grieve senior Navy admirals whose feelings on the F111B range from misgivings to opposition.

The sources, familiar with the course of closed hearings, said Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., and other committee members appear to be trying to force the issue.

The committee may act, it was said, even before Navy engineers report early next month on four contractor proposals for new planes to replace the F111B — Navy version of the long controversial F4U.

There are indications these engineering studies will be vitally important in any Navy recommendation to top defense officials. What will happen when

The Hempstead County Industrial Foundation was organized ten years ago by a group of local citizens and business firms for a two-fold purpose:

(1) To provide industrial sites for new industries and the expansion of existing industries.

(2) To make available the initial financing and secure the permanent financing of buildings and facilities for new industries interested in locating in Hope or Hempstead County, and the expansion of existing industries.

During the past ten years the Foundation and the Hope Chamber of Commerce have been directly responsible for the location and expansion of the following industries:

Hope Eggland, Meyer's Bakery, Hempstead Manufacturing Company, representing 500 employees and G. & S. Manufacturing Company, annual payroll of $1,200,000.00; Standard Generator Company, Hope Wire Products Company.

The industrial property, originally 116 acres, on the western edge of Hope lies between West Avenue B and the Missouri-Pacific Railroad. The 54 remaining acres available for industries provide Hope and Hempstead County with one of the best planned industrial parks, with all utilities and transportation facilities on site, in the State of Arkansas.

The people of Hope should be proud of the Foundation's past accomplishments under the direction of its officers and directors, and grateful to the foresighted citizen and business firms who so generously made this Foundation possible for the benefit and economic growth of Hope and Hempstead County. A special vote of appreciation is due George Frazier, 1967 president of the Foundation, who with his able and capable officers and directors made possible the future home of Hope Wire Products, Inc., which is now under construction.

Eight Escape Prison at Cummins

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP)—Eight inmates, one serving a life sentence for first-degree murder, escaped from here early this morning after overpowering a trusty guard.

Prison Supt. Victor Urban said no one was injured in the escape, but he said he thought one of the men had a knife.

Urban said the inmates used a hacksaw to saw through some bars of an enclosed area attached behind the barracks, overpowered the guard and fled on foot. He said he didn't know how the inmates got the saw.

None of the escapees, all white, was a trusty, an inmate guard, and nearly all of them had prior escape records.

Roadblocks were set up throughout the area.

This was the first escape from the prison since Urban became superintendent after Thomas O. Murton was fired.

Help Slow Gold Trading

PARIS (AP) — The price of gold reached $44.36 an ounce on the Paris market today, more than $9 above the $35 price guaranteed by the United States. Wild speculation in Hong Kong sent the price to $40.47 while the London gold market suspended operations under government decree.

France refused to go along with other major European gold dealing nations in action to dampen buying. Normally, the Bank of France intervenes to keep the price just above the $35 dollar figure. But today, because the market did not receive fresh supplies from the seven-nation gold pool in London, the Paris price was allowed to find its own level in accordance with local supply and demand.

However, the Bank of France played a major role. It allowed the price for one kilogram—2.2 pounds—to rise to an unprecedented 7,000 francs or $1,400 from the outset of dealing in a bid to hold down demand.

McCarthy Thinks RFK Coming In

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, convinced Sen. Robert F. Kennedy plans to join the Democratic presidential race soon, is moving to head off the New Yorker in the remaining preference primaries.

Kennedy was faced with having to decide today about the Nebraska contest in order to meet the filing deadline.

McCarthy is due to undergo a test of his strength compared with Kennedy's this weekend at a meeting of the 30,000-member antiwar California Democratic Council.

The council spawned the McCarthy movement in California but there is an undercurrent of Kennedy sentiment within the membership. The group is expected to endorse McCarthy overwhelmingly at the close of the convention Saturday.

"McCarthy has earned, through his courage and leadership, the right and duty to be supported," said Gerald N. Hill, council president and co-chairman of the McCarthy campaign in California.

At least one of Kennedy's closest political advisers meanwhile is urging him against risking his political future by making a race for the Democratic nomination this year.

"It's entirely possible," said the informant, who asked not to be identified, "that he will announce he has reassessed the situation and decided not to make the race."

"I, for one, don't think he can take the nomination from the President if Johnson decides he wants to stay in office," the adviser said, adding he expects Kennedy to make up his mind in two or three days.

Frenzied Gold Buying in Europe Triggers a Hike in U.S. Interest Rates

Bill to Lift Gold Cover to Johnson

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has sent to President Johnson a bill to lift the 25 per cent gold cover on U.S. currency and free America's gold reserves for use as ammunition in the international financial crisis.

Before the Senate's late-evening 30-37 vote sent the House-passed measure to the White House, the Senate Finance Committee approved an excise tax bill viewed by the administration as another key economic weapon.

The bill would retain excise tax rates on telephones and automobiles at current levels rather than letting them drop sharply. It is aimed at fighting inflation and reducing the federal budget deficit. Senate action on the gold cover bill came as the London gold market—target for a massive wave of speculative buying—announced it would close down today at the suggestion of the United States.

The administration had called for passage of the gold cover bill to provide concrete evidence of U.S. determination to maintain the price of gold at $35 an ounce. The bill would free the entire U.S. gold stock—now about $11.4 billion—to meet international commitments.

Speculators are gambling they can profit by forcing the United States to increase the price of gold.

During debate on the gold cover bill, Republicans promised that the Senate soon will get a chance to vote on a tax increase—spending cut package when the body takes up the excise tax bill.

In suggesting the closing of the London market, the local point of the buying stampede, the Treasury Department said it had become disorganized and "didn't permit business to be handled in orderly fashion."

The United States contributes 50 per cent of the gold sold on the London market as part of a seven-nation pool.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler and Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr. of the Federal Reserve Board said they invited the central bank governors of the gold pool countries to consult Saturday on "coordinated measures to ensure orderly conditions in the exchange markets and to support the present pattern of exchange rates based on the fixed price of $35 per ounce of gold."

In addition to the United States other gold pool members are Belgium, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, the Netherlands and the United Kingdom. Among them they have more than $24 billion in gold.
